

Hosted Microsoft Exchange A better way to communicate.

For years, Microsoft Exchange has dominated the market as the standard communication and collaboration hub for enterprises. Although an Exchange investment represents a proactive initiative to improve corporate communications, many small and medium-sized businesses have not been able to justify the expense of implementing a full-scale Exchange environment internally because of the large upfront fees, complexity of administration and maintenance costs.

LightEdge has created a better way for businesses to deliver the same powerful Exchange features to their employees without the capital investment for infrastructure and ongoing hassles of updating and maintaining the platform.

OUR PLATFORM IS READY TODAY

You don't need to create user growth models, buy servers or obtain the proper licensing to begin receiving the benefits of Exchange.

PRESERVE CASH

The servers, storage and licensing required for even a small in-house Exchange environment can be significant. Choosing Hosted Exchange gives your company the same functionality as an in-house platform with no upfront investment, predictable monthly fees and no risk.

HOSTED EXCHANGE OVERVIEW

While e-mail is certainly the central feature of Hosted Exchange, the real power of the platform is the integration between e-mail and all of the other tools that keep you organized and productive.

Calendar	Get the visual impact of your day, week or month at a glance through Exchange's color-coded drag and drop calendar. Set meetings at the right time by reviewing shared calendars or using the "Plan a Meeting" feature which suggests the best available meeting time for all participants.
Tasks	Staying organized has never been easier than with Hosted Exchange's Task Manager. Users can create detailed lists for projects including: priority, status, percent completed, reminders and project due date. Supervisors can utilize the same task manager to create and assign activities for their team. Team members acknowledge the activity, submit status reports and alert the manager through e-mail by marking the activity as complete.
Contacts	Each Exchange user can have an unlimited personal contact list which is automatically synchronized to their defined mobile device, while corporate contacts or other shared contact lists are stored and maintained in the Exchange Public Folder system.
Reminders	Exchange reminders ensure that you are always on time. By setting reminders on meetings and tasks, you can make sure that everyone will attend on time and that important deadlines aren't missed.

ANYTIME/ANYWHERE ACCESS

Once Hosted Exchange becomes your unified hub for messaging and activities, you'll want to take it everywhere with you. Fortunately, Hosted Exchange makes it easy for the office worker, telecommuter and road warrior to access the communication and collaboration tools they need in real-time.

Network/Internet

Securely access your Exchange account over your corporate network or over the Internet without using a VPN.

Outlook Web Access

With OWA you are able to get your Exchange account from any computer quickly and securely, through an https connection to the LightEdge hosted platform.

Mobile Options

Blackberry, Windows Mobile and other smart phone users can stay connected wherever they roam with integration services that provide real-time access to Exchange through secure, encrypted "push" technology.

HOSTED EXCHANGE ENABLES YOU TO:

- Manage a single e-mail inbox that's synchronized among multiple locations, such as your smart phone and home office PCs.
- Connect from most Web browsers with an Internet connection.
- Connect from virtually any mobile device for contacts, calendar and real-time e-mail.
- Maintain access to all messaging features (mailbox, calendars, contacts and public folders) even when offline, and continue working regardless of network connectivity.
- Grant other people, such as your assistant, access to your mailbox on your behalf.

WHY IS HOSTED BETTER?

LightEdge delivers Exchange on a redundant enterprise-grade environment from a secure, managed data center. Building additional security and redundancies into an in-house platform would nearly double the price.

In-house platforms are implemented on growth assumptions and may not scale properly through high-growth phases or acquisitions. The LightEdge Hosted Exchange platform has been designed to comfortably support thousands of businesses and will be able to instantly handle your additional mailbox volume.
